As the UK's leading manufacturer of high density storage for office and archive areas, Rackline has designed a range of products to maximise office and personal storage at the deskside.

The range is modular and interchangeable allowing multiple combinations.

The range includes 'The Spin', LowTrak, Sky Pedestal and the awarding winning Filestation, each product has its own unique identity and will provide the maximise storage possible within their allocated spaces.

Together with standard office accessories, i.e. pull out shelves, book dividers, stationary slots, there is also a range of products for personal storage, such as lockers, laptop pouches, ipad drawers and secure boxes that can be provided in 'cassette format'. The cassettes make changing the use of the low level products cost effective, efficient and quick.

personal storage with deskside filing

The Spin is based on the very successful Pirouette Rotary Storage Unit which has become a big favourite in the open plan environment used as partitioning or around the perimeter.

The Spin takes the Rotary Storage concept of double sided storage but increases the flexibility by reducing its overall footprint to just over half a square metre and allowing for filing and personal storage. One side of the unit is suitable for standard filing and the other for personal items such as laptops, mobile phones, handbags and secure items.

The Spin is further enhanced by adding a splash of colour to the internal core and shelves making the unit more interesting and aesthetically pleasing than standard cabinets.

33% floor
space

low level, high density storage

The award winning Filestation was the first high density product designed for the central office. It typically saves 33% of floor space and cuts retrieval time by 40%.

Filestation can be sited in the centre of the office due to its unique low level track or next to a benching system to create an office hub.

Filestation can accommodate personal storage and shelf filing and be finished in a range of RAL colours.

slide to the side for easy accessibility

LowTrak derives from the popular Sidetrak product that works well in the office environment around the perimeters of the room and in awkward alcoves and walkways.

The Lowtrak system however is designed for the centre of the office by using a row of static units fronted by one less in number of sliding units. The rear is accessed by sliding the front units.

The flexibility of the Lowtrak means that you can reuse your existing shelving or cupboards and mount them onto the Lowtrak base.

The unique track allows the system to be installed onto a carpet or vinyl floor without the need for a base or infill floor.

Similar to the other products in this range the Lowtrak offers a range of accessories for both personal storage and shelf filing.

cassette shelving

The SkyPedestal provides personal and desk side storage adjacent to the desk.

The pull out space can be used in two ways;
