Healthcare Storage

With over 40 years experience in the design, manufacture and install of a huge range of storage solutions for a diverse audience, Rackline are the perfect partner to maximise your space.

HEALTHCARE STORAGE

At Rackline we have been supplying into Healthcare since 1984 and have experience in supplying storage solutions to a huge cross section of healthcare focused organisations. Our systems can be found in the smallest of GP surgeries through to the largest hospital trusts.

We are aware that the storage requirements for healthcare settings are vast and spread across many departments. This brochure aims to cover some of the prevalent requirements, but if you have something specific let us know.

NHS

At Rackline we understand that NHS trusts are constantly under pressure to improve efficiency, save costs, and maintain high hygiene standards. Alongside these challenges is the responsibility of ensuring patient comfort and well-being. Given the complexities of managing such a large organisation, it's easy to see why storage solutions might not be a top priority. However, effective storage is crucial for ensuring smooth operations and can significantly impact patient care.

Rackline is an approved supplier to the NHS, being both a Crown Commercial service supplier and a registered supplier to the NHS Supply chain. By using Rackline via these channels you are guaranteeing an approved company with both a quality product and competitive pricing.

MADE FOR HEALTHCARE

Talk to us about Stainless Steel options, and our antimicrobial coatings. These are available for application on our shelving systems and lockers to ensuring the highest levels of hygiene.

At Rackline we have solutions for all your live and archived medical record requirements.

With your live files our solutions aid picking rates through clear access routes, and clear indexing.

For archived files we supply a range of high density, high capacity storage that makes the most of your available space.

Dispensary environments are often very fast moving with thousands of items needing to be accurately stored and quickly retrieved.

We provide adjustable shelving to accommodate any size of package, together with dividers and drawers to secure and organise your inventory.

Our shelving is built to hold pharmacy baskets and boxes and is far more robust than traditional timber shelving.

Our storage systems are tailored to your needs, from shelving and drawer units through to cantilever shelving and pallet racking.

Talk to our teams about our wide variety of static and high-density mobile shelving solutions. All designed to maximise your space and adjust to your ever changing inventory.

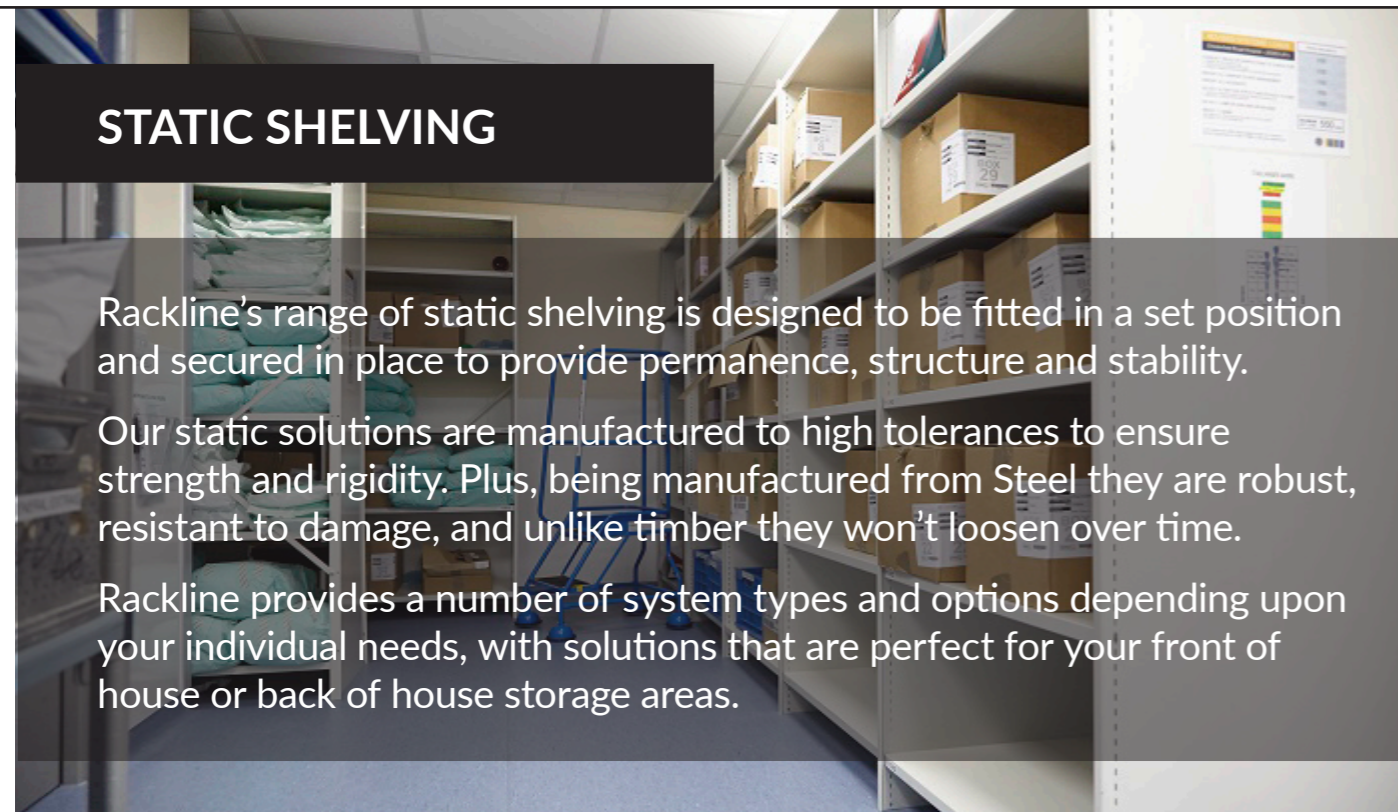

STATIC SHELVING

Rackline's range of static shelving is designed to be fitted in a set position and secured in place to provide permanence, structure and stability.

Our static solutions are manufactured to high tolerances to ensure strength and rigidity. Plus, being manufactured from Steel they are robust, resistant to damage, and unlike timber they won't loosen over time.

Rackline provides a number of system types and options depending upon your individual needs, with solutions that are perfect for your front of house or back of house storage areas.

DOUBLE SKIN

Proform and Pro-Libero are our robust static shelving solutions featuring an incredibly strong 'box' section upright. This upright is manufactured as a double-skin panel with two sections spot-welded together.

These systems are cleverly designed to provide clear access, while protecting the shelf contents, with no protrusions, edges or raised seams.

Proform and Pro-Libero are also adjustable to flex to the changing needs of your inventory.

SINGLE SKIN

The Rackline Profile single-skin shelving system consists of a panel with a double-form rear section.

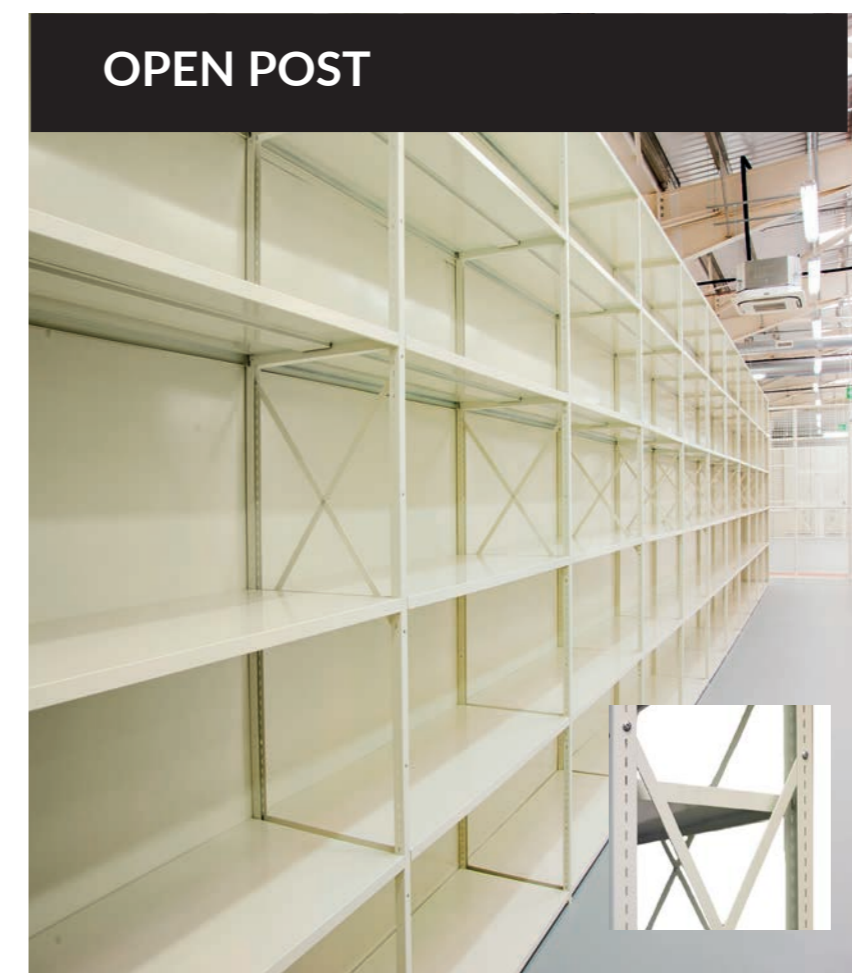

One of our range of closed-wall steel shelving systems, the intermediate uprights are designed to support the shelves in adjoining bays.

Clever design and careful manufacturing, removes any sharp edges on the uprights and tight manufacturing tolerances remove the potential of items migrating from bay to bay or becoming trapped behind upright posts.

Profile single-skin shelving can be powder coated to your required colour, to fit in with your environment and even coated with antimicrobial coatings as required.

The powder coated finish is far harder wearing than paint and UV resistant, ensuring many years of service.

OPEN POST

With its open post upright design, the Rackline Prospan Open Post static shelving system is extremely robust and extends beyond the sizes and capabilities of our Single Skin (Profile) and Double Skin (Proform and Pro-Libero) shelving systems.

Prospan is our take on longspan, but cleverly designed to retain a more elegant style that can sometimes be lost with the traditional, more industrial aesthetic associated with longspan shelving.

Prospan shelving can be specified in numerous lengths, between 1200mm and 1600mm wide and heights of up to 4500mm.

This shelving boasts a capacity spread load per shelf of up to 125kg making it ideal for hospitals and areas where heavier items need to be stored.

MOBILE SHELVING

Rackline's mobile storage systems are the perfect solution to increasing your storage capacity while reducing your storage footprint.

No matter the term you use, mobile shelving, mobile aisle shelving, roller racking, or rolling stack we offer a range of mobile storage systems to suit any healthcare environment.

INCREASE YOUR STORAGE SPACE BY 70%

MONOTRAK

Monotrak is a high density mobile shelving system that operates on a single surface mounted guide track. This track is designed to be non-trip and the clever design eliminates the use of 'infill floors' and the access ramps used by other brands.

Our rails are easy to install, and produce little residual damage to the floor, making them both easy to install and easy to relocated if necessary.

The slim carriage profiles and durable design results in load capacities of up to 3000kg across lengths of up to 5 metres. Monotrak can be combined with any of our static shelving models.

POWERTRAK

Powertrak electronic mobile shelving takes the effort out of depositing or retrieving your stored items.

Based on Rackline's time-tested Monotrak and Multitrak solutions, the units are fitted with simple to use motorised modules that take away the effort from the user. This means no handles and no manual winding.

Powertrak has all the sophisticated programmable logic controls you would expect from the latest hi-tech system, but it combines this technology with extremely simple operator controls.

In normal operation an operator simply presses "Green for Go" and all the controls and operations are handled automatically by the Powertrak module.

MULTITRAK

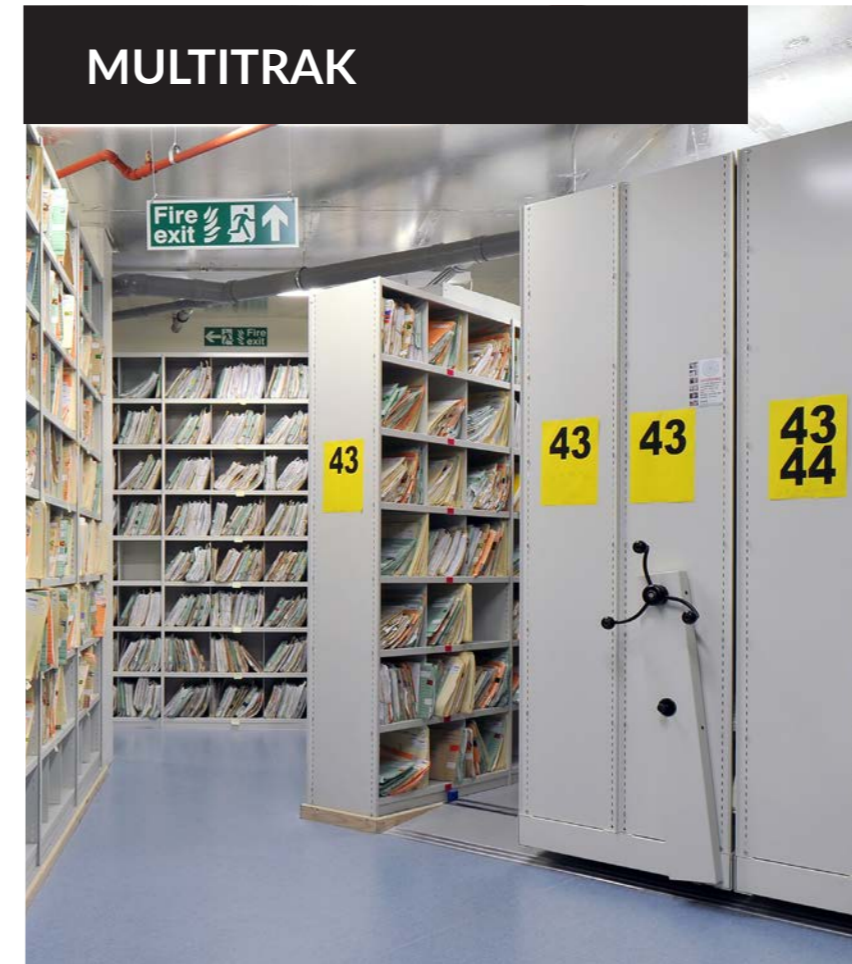

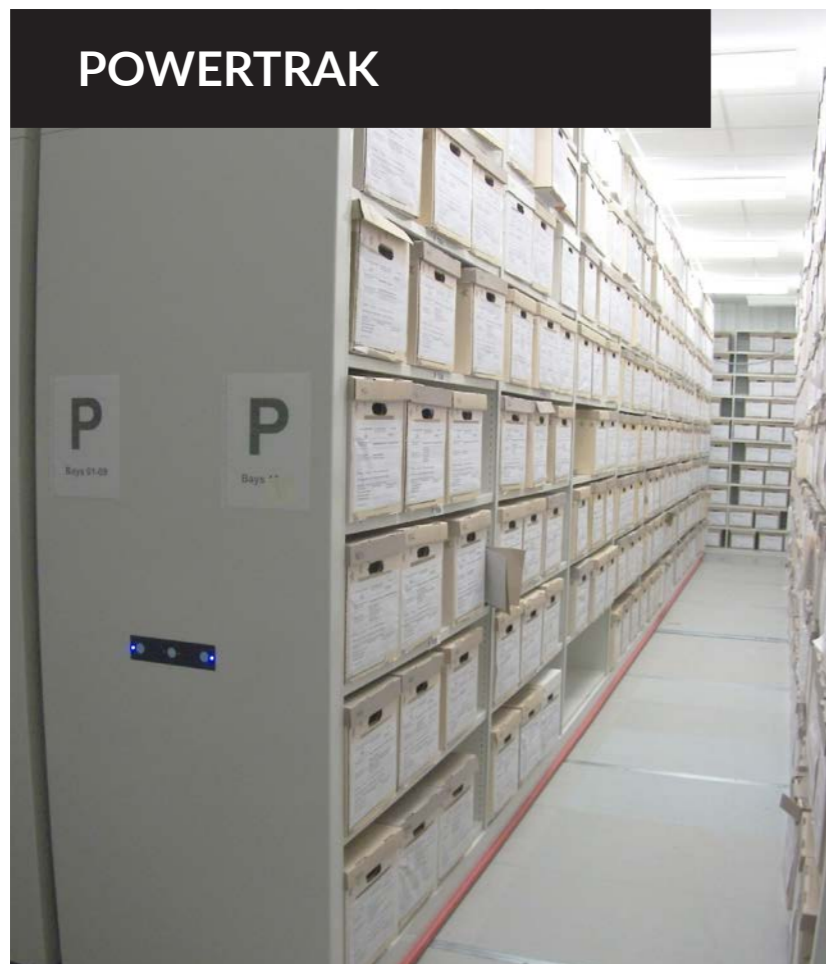

Multitrak mobile racking operates on the same principle as our Monotrak solution. However Multitrak builds on it with the inclusion of multiple torque tubes and wheels. This allows for both longer bases and much higher load capacities.

Multitrak carriages can be up to 12 meters long and can accommodate load capacities up to 15 tonnes per carriage.

Even with high weight-loads the clever design of Multitrak ensures that carriages can be moved with ease.

Multitrak tracks can be installed within 'new build' floor screeds, allowing for a flush, non-trip finish.

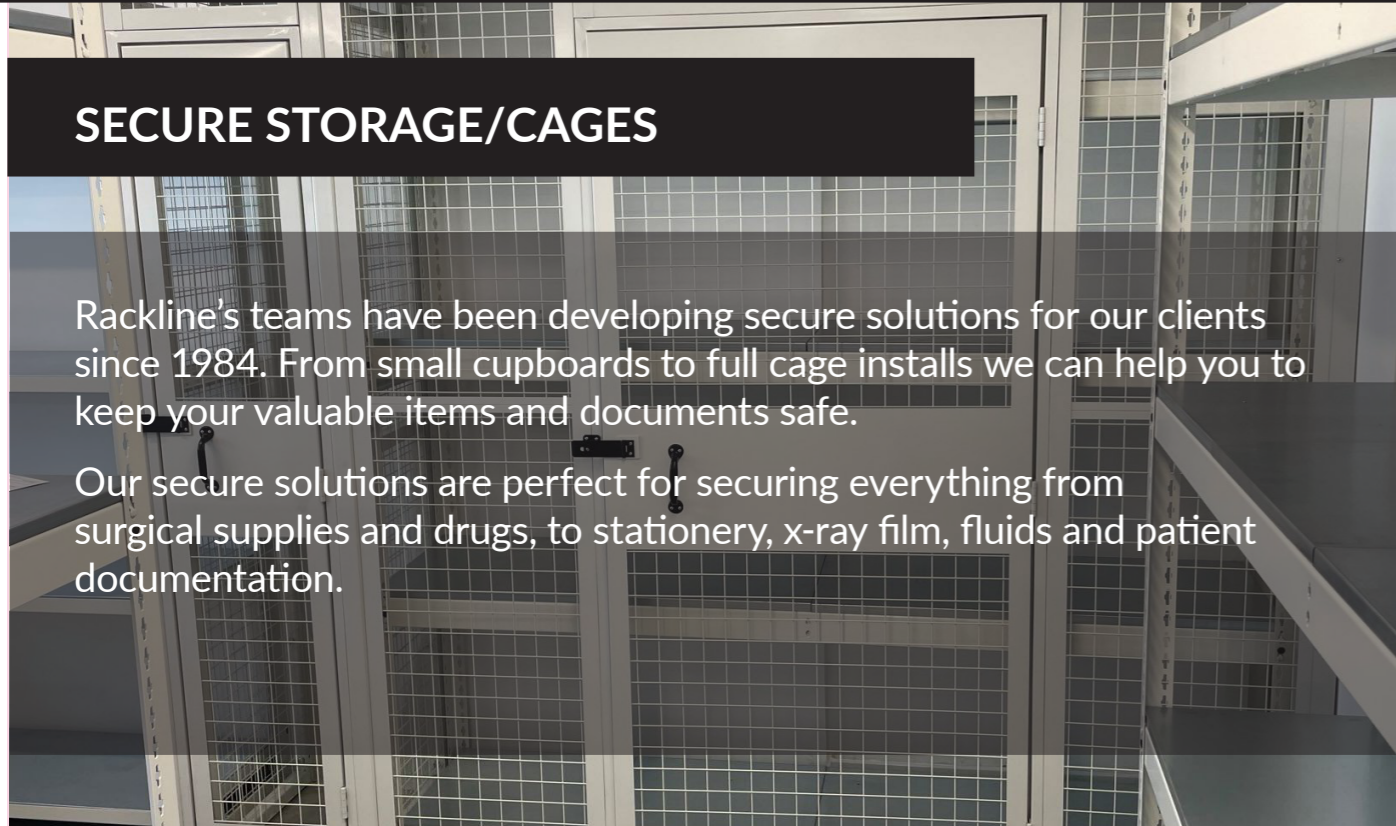

Simply combine Multitrak with a selection of Rackline's static shelving, drawers or any other solution you require.

SECURE STORAGE/CAGES

Rackline's teams have been developing secure solutions for our clients since 1984. From small cupboards to full cage installs we can help you to keep your valuable items and documents safe.

Our secure solutions are perfect for securing everything from surgical supplies and drugs, to stationery, x-ray film, fluids and patient documentation.

SECURE PIROUETTE

Rackline Pirouette cabinets provide far more efficient storage than conventional filing cabinets both in capacity and floor space.

Secure models retain this capacity but add extended security features, including a secure combination lock.

The rigid steel case features a flush fitted rear closure panel, hinge guards that provide a seal to prevent covert access and a detachable hand operated lock latching plate.

Where required classification can be confirmed by the Government Security Division.

PROSECURE CABINETS

Like our other products, the Rackline range of ProSecure storage cabinets are designed and built in our Staffordshire factory. These cabinets are made from Steel, are robust with strong lockable doors.

ProSecure cabinets are designed to secure documents, equipment, stock or personal items in any environment whether it is a hospital, school, office or industrial warehouse.

With security at their heart, we supply a variety of rated locks that can be specified to deliver the level of security you require.

ProSecure cabinets are manufactured in a few standard sizes : 6 level at 1836mm and 3 level at 996mm. However as these, and all the solutions within this catalogue are manufactured by us, we can adjust and configure cabinets to your individual requirements.
